

Two Naval Airmen Killed As Swift Plane Crashes Near Beacon

Beacon, N. Y., Sept. 16 (AP)—The "aerial graveyard," a fog and wind swept mountainous section in southeastern New York, claimed two more victims today with the deaths of Lieutenant Lincoln C. Denton of the naval reserve and Mechanic C. Hart.

The fliers died in the tangled wreckage of their navy "Hell Diver" plane which crashed on Lamba Hill during a rain and windstorm Saturday night. They were on the last lap of a flight from Detroit, Mich., to their home base at Floyd Bennett Field.

The first word that the speedy ship was in trouble came in a radio report to the Albany airport at 7 p. m., Saturday night. An hour later, at a casino in the hills heard a crash and searching parties started toward a valley known as Hell's Hollow where the sound seemed to originate.

Fog and rain hampered the search and it was not until Sunday morning that the wrecked plane was found in the heavy forest undergrowth. The bodies of the two men were jammed under the wreckage and they apparently had been killed instantly. CCC men cut a trail two miles through the forest to bring out the bodies.

After a naval board of inquiry held an hour's session at Beacon, the bodies were taken to Poughkeepsie by an undertaker. The members of the board of inquiry refused to comment on their findings.

The mountain on which the plane crashed is 2,000 feet high and is one of the Fishkill mountains. The area is known as the "aerial graveyard" because of the flying difficulties it presents in bad weather. The "graveyard" stretches for about 40 miles, east and west, in the southern section of the state. A year ago last June a huge air liner crashed on the slope of Last Chance Mountain, about 35 miles west of the scene of Saturday's crash, and seven persons were killed.

Lieut. Denton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Denton, live at Houghton, Mich. A brother-in-law, Eugene B. Hotchkiss of Liberty, was one of the searchers and one of the first to reach the scene of the crash.

Lieut. William Reed, Jr., of New York, a marine corps pilot who learned flying under Lieut. Denton's guidance, aided Sergt. William H. Hamlin of the state police, in directing searchers.

A price of 100,000 pounds was once placed on the head of Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, "father of the Chinese republic."

Body Of Evelyn Hoey Taken by Her Parents To St. Louis for Burial

West Chester, Pa., Sept. 16 (AP)—Henry H. Rogers, Jr., young oil heir, remained in seclusion at an undisclosed place today, awaiting this week's inquest which is virtually certain to officially ring down the curtain on the fatal shooting of glamorous Evelyn Hoey.

Although investigators continued their inquiry of the events of the shooting in Rogers farm home near Downingtown last Wednesday night, it appeared definite that the coroner's jury would label Miss Hoey's death a suicide.

Rogers and his cameraman friend William James Kelly, of Union City, N. J., are under $2,500 bail each, for appearance at the inquest, the exact date for which is yet undecided. Deputy Coroner Harvey Cox said it would be held Thursday evening, but counsel for Rogers announced that Wednesday or Friday would be the date.

Francis Grubb, Chester county detective, denied he is hunting Robert Wright, former caretaker at Rogers' rural home near Downingtown. Frank Catalano, Rogers chauffeur, told the authorities that Rogers had been displeased with Wright's work, but Wright left the farm several days before the shooting. Grubb repeated today he is convinced Miss Hoey killed herself. "Yes, indeed," he replied to a question as to whether he has accepted the suicide theory.

Body Goes West.

New York, Sept. 15 (AP)—The grief-stricken parents of Evelyn Hoey, blond singer of torch songs, who was found shot to death at the Pennsylvania farm home of Henry H. Rogers, 3rd, left today for Downingtown, Pa., to take the body back to their St. Louis, Mo., home for burial. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Hoey, said they would go west immediately and would not stay over to attend the inquest which is scheduled for Thursday. They were accompanied by their son, Erroll, who arrived here from Minneapolis last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoey, who visibly showed signs of the strain caused by their daughter's tragic death, were under the care of a physician over the week-end.

Young Rogers, son of the late Standard Oil magnate, remained in seclusion at the home of Pennsylvania friends. His companion, William J. Kelly, with whom he is released in $2,500 bail to guarantee their presence at the inquest, was reported to have gone to Fire Island, N. Y.

Both Rogers and Kelly were in the farm house at the time Miss Hoey was shot to death. Police officials who investigated the case have said that all evidence "points toward suicide."

Thomas Mooney to Get Hearing on Writ

San Francisco, Sept. 16 (AP)—Thomas J. Mooney prepared for his second trip out of grim San Quentin penitentiary in his nearly 20 years imprisonment today as a new climax in his long battle for freedom.

Mooney, convicted of the 1916 Preparedness Day bombing, will be brought here for a habeas corpus hearing ordered by the California Supreme Court. The hearing opens tomorrow.

In 1932, the convict appeared here at a "trial" on an unused indictment growing out of the bombing, which resulted in a directed verdict for acquittal but failed to change his status as a prisoner.

A. E. Shaw, veteran San Francisco attorney who never has been connected with Mooney's case, has been instructed to take testimony on these issues:

Whether any witnesses who testified against Mooney committed perjury.

Whether, if perjury was committed, the prosecuting attorney or any of his associates were aware of it.

Whether the prosecution "willfully, knowingly, or at all" concealed or suppressed evidence that would have been favorable to Mooney.

The hearing is expected to occupy three or more weeks. At its conclusion Shaw will prepare a record for submission to the supreme court but will not make any recommendation.

Relics of a long vanished Colonial dwelling, and of Indians who occupied the same site, were recently found on the shore of the Hudson river, south of Iona Island.

Insured Buying!

THERE'S a way of insuring your buying against wasted money and unsatisfactory merchandise. And that insurance costs you not a penny. It is always paid up to date and in full force.

That insurance is the advertising here in your newspaper. Advertised products are standardized, perfected and carefully priced before they are ever advertised.

Whether you are buying soap, clothing, shoes, toothpaste, food or electrical household appliances, the result is the same. You get reliable, economical merchandise whenever you buy by the advertisements.

Make up your insured shopping list in the comfort and quiet of your own home. Compare the merits of the products advertised. Study the way in which each is adapted to your needs.

You'll find advertising informing and interesting. That's the only sort that pays, you know.

Every dollar you spend on advertised merchandise is insured against waste.

Long's Political Heirs To Hold Caucus To Save All Possible Holdings

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 16 (AP).—Amid talk of a truce with the New Deal the political heirs of the assassinated Huey P. Long laid plans today for a caucus to salvage all possible holdings from his Louisiana dictatorship and national following.

Meanwhile parish authorities renewed their up-to-now futile efforts to establish the exact circumstances of the death of the senator's slayer.

Renewal of the inquest gave Senator Long's bodyguards their fourth chance to tell how they poured nearly sixty bullets into the body of Dr. Carl A. Weiss, Jr., after he shot Long in the state house a week ago last night.

"No statements by anybody," Long said as he entered the hospital in which he died little more than 30 hours later.

Thus far, the guards who cut Weiss down, most of them highway policemen, have adhered to the literal meaning of that command, thrice ignoring the invitations of the parish coroner to appear at sessions of the inquest.

Today's session is the fourth. The coroner, Dr. Thomas A. Bird, and District Attorney John Fred Odum both believed they could compel the guards to attend the inquest, but they were doubtful that they could compel them to testify. Odum said he had yet to hear the details of the shooting from a witness who had seen all of it.

The caucus plans of Long's now leaderless lieutenants were indefinite. The conclave may be held during the present week and may include representatives of the Long machine throughout the 64 parishes of the state as well as the state officials who were picked by the senator.

Opponents of the machine watched the plans but doubted that any single figure would emerge to dominate as Long did.

MAKE SMART, PRACTICAL DUTCH CURTAINS

Dutch curtains are practical for any room where it's desirable to regulate light and air—a nursery, for instance, or a bedroom. You make four curtains—a pair for each sash. The rod for lower pair is attached to window sash so that curtains go up and down with window when it is raised or lowered. The rod for upper curtains is fastened to the window casing.

Making Dutch curtains with French-pleated headings gives them a tailored look. To do this, you'll need material almost twice as wide as the width you want each finished curtain to be. To make curtains about 22 inches at the top you'll need 56-inch material, and your pleats could be 2 or 2 1/2 inches in depth.

The curtains illustrated are 17 inches at the top, and 56-inch material was used, with 4 pleats 2 inches in depth and side hems of 1/2 inch. This is how they're made:

How To Make French Heading
Measure to set length of curtains. (Bottom edge of upper sash curtains should cover heading of lower pair.) Allow 8 inches for heading (4 inches depth and 4 inches turn-in) as shown in diagram A.

Then add 8 inches for hem (4 inches hem and 4 inches turn-in).

Sew side hems first—making them 1/2 inch wide and 1/2 inch turn-in; then stitch top and bottom hems.

Now make French pleats. Measure 3 1/2 inches from each side of curtain and place a pin for center of each of two outside pleats (Diagram B). Divide material between the two pins into 3 equal parts. You should now have on each curtain 4 pins with equal spaces between.

At each pin make a 2-inch pleat, using 4 inches of the material. Stitch each pleat the depth of heading as in diagram C. Next, divide each pleat into thirds, to look like a group of 3 pleats. Catch lightly together at the top, but at bottom tack securely (Diagram D). Sew on rings as in diagram E.

Lettuce Supplies Vitamins, Color, Flavor to Any Meal

Serve the Outside Leaves; They are Thirty Times Richer in Vitamin A

By PETER G. TEN EYCK
Commissioner, Department of Agriculture and Markets
Albany, New York

IT makes me feel good to hear that the demand for the freshest vegetables is increasing. That means only one thing—that the woman who does the marketing for the home has the best interests of her family at heart.

Gardening and its more modern outgrowth, truck gardening, is one of the best of their corn, beans, tomatoes and potatoes. We are the heirs of all the ages. A seed is a frail thing, but these have survived all perils.

I was interested to learn the other day that the outer leaves of our New York-grown Big Boston lettuce—head lettuce not of the iceberg variety—are 30 times richer in vitamin A than the inner leaves of the same head. The outer leaves are used by most cooks for garnish on plates of other food. Now it develops that this ornamental trimming is the best part of the lettuce. Thirty times richer is a lot of richness to use in trimming unless you eat the trimming.

Vitamin A, of course, is the vitamin which stimulates growth, raises the resistance of the body to diseases especially those affecting the sinuses, ears, lungs and respiratory tract, and prevents a deficiency disease resulting in temporary blindness. This vitamin is not destroyed easily by heat and therefore is not readily lost in cooking.

How To Buy
When buying lettuce, remember that head lettuce to be of good quality should be fresh, crisp, tender and fairly firm to hard. It should be free from decay, and should not have an excess of outer or wrapper leaves.

Lettuce is a good source of vitamins C and E as well as A; a fair source of vitamin B and likewise contains some vitamin D. For the vitamin C supply one authority recommends, for adults, one pint daily of orange juice containing the juice of one lemon, together with one-fourth to one-half head of lettuce or its equivalent in raw cabbage.

Parents can do their children no better service than to teach them to "like" all the different vegetables. In Mexico and South America a dark race preserved for not too set in his likes and dislikes.

One-Piece Dress With a Big Bow

Today's dress is one of those nice daytime frocks that are sometimes hard to find, but easy to wear. Once you've located them, the blouse has a yoke, with ends which tie in a soft, butterfly bow, and are fastened to the dress with two ornamental buttons. The neck is V-shaped, and the graceful line, with tie, and all, is most becoming to the older woman. The back of the blouse is quite plain, all the interest being concentrated in the front. The skirt has inserts at the sides, which give a panel effect both before and aft, and also produce the width in the hemline. Sleeves are long, crushing a little at the wrist.

"Public Hysteria" Aided Health Fight

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 16 (AP)—The use of "public hysteria" as an aid in the fight against disease after the July floods in the southern section of the state was described today by the State Department of Health.

The department, in outlining methods used and results accomplished in fighting the diseases which usually follow floods, reported that "full advantage" was taken of "the hysteria which prevailed."

Repeated warnings by newspapers to boil all drinking water proved "amazingly effective," the department said.

"Checks made throughout all counties of the flood area at the time indicated that these warnings were being taken seriously and as a consequence not many persons actually were exposed to the dangers of drinking contaminated water.

"Before the residents were allowed to lapse into the state when they would no longer adhere strictly to the advice given, sufficient time had elapsed to permit necessary action to be taken to put the public supplies in order."

The department also reported that during the first three days after the flood, sufficient anti-typhoid vaccine was supplied for the vaccination of about 18,000 persons.

Eggs Laid by Fish

The maximum number of eggs laid by fish varies greatly, but in all cases the number increases with the weight and age of the fish. Thus it has been calculated that the number laid by the salmon is roughly about 1,000 to every pound weight of the fish. The starry flounder lays about 7,000,000; the herring, 30,000; the turbot, 14,311,000; the sole, 124,000; the perch, 200,000. Briefly, the number is greatest where the risks of destruction are greatest.

American boxers now visiting Australia are so impressed with prospects that they will urge other Americans to visit Melbourne and Sydney.

This Colorful Hanging is Interesting Needle-work

PATTERN 5438

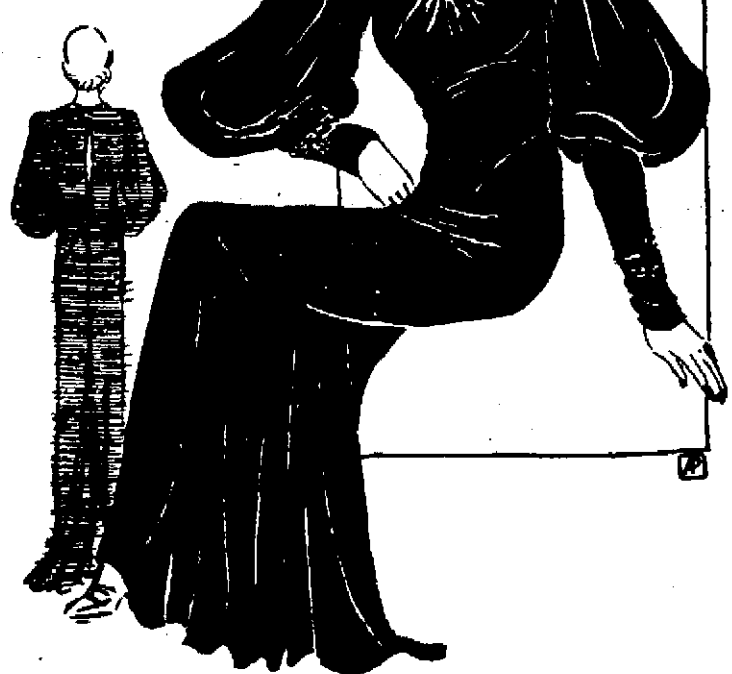

Rarely seen, but beautifully plumaged, these graceful flamingoes adorn a tropical setting, and an easily made wall-hanging as well. It's just the thing to fill in that awkward bare space over the book-case or in the guest-room. You'll find it most interesting pick-up work, too—it works up so quickly, it's done before you know it. You may use either silk, wool, or cotton floss, and, of course, the more colorful you make it, the prettier it will be. As only such simple stitches as single, running and outline stitches are required, the veriest beginner will find it easy. And you needn't frame it—just line it and hang it up.

In pattern 5438 you will find a transfer pattern of a wall hanging 15 x 20 inches; material requirements; illustrations of all stitches needed; color chart and key.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to the Kingston Daily Freeman Household Arts Dept., 259 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

Another 'Flash' from the Renaissance—jeweled trim. Diana Merwin

There is something about black and deep toned velvets, jeweled ornaments, draped bodices, huge sleeves, fitted waists and button trim that is directly connected with the Renaissance influence of which the world of fashion is making such a point right now.

Jeweled ornaments play a big part in the dinner and formal gowns this season. While rhinestone buckles and clips are much used, the trend is mostly for antique gold, colorful stones and filigree work.

The dinner gown pictured above showing front and back view, is done in black transparent velvet. It is belted, with a fitted waistline, moulding the figure down to a full, flowing hem.

Winning Culinary Praise

Peach fritters are generally food favorites. Fresh or canned fruit may be used.

Meatless Dinner For Four

Molded Spinach
Creamed Mushrooms
Mashed Sweet Potatoes
Bread
Head Lettuce
Peach Fritters
Milk For Children Daily

Molded Spinach

3 cups cooked spinach
1 egg
1 tablespoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Mix ingredients and press into buttered round mold. Set in pan hot water and bake 10 minutes in moderate oven. Carefully unroll and fill with mushrooms.

Creamed Mushrooms

4 tablespoons fat
2 cups mushrooms
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups milk

Scrub mushrooms and cut into dice or slices. Melt fat in frying pan. Add mushrooms and cook 10 minutes. Stir frequently. Add flour and seasonings and blend well. Add milk and cook 3 minutes. Serve poured inside and around mold.

Peach Fritters

2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons sugar

1 cup sliced peaches
1 egg
1/2 cup milk

Mix ingredients and drop portions batter from spoon into hot deep fat. Fry until well browned, which will require about 6 minutes. Drain and serve hot, dusted with sugar and cinnamon (1/4 cup sugar and 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon).

Lemon Sauce

1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 cup water
1/2 cup lemon juice

Blend sugar with flour and salt. Add rest of ingredients and boil 2 minutes. Stir constantly and serve warm or cold.

Butterscotch Parfait

A nutritious dessert—a perfect way to top off and complete any meal:

1/2 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup water
4 egg yolks
2 tablespoons butter

1 pint whipping cream
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons vanilla

Combine sugar and butter, and heat until melted. Add water, and cook until butterscotch is syrupy. Add syrup mixture slowly to beaten egg yolks. Cook in double boiler until light and fluffy. Chill. Add whipped cream, salt and vanilla. Freeze without stirring. Chopped nuts may be added if desired.

WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, Sept. 6.—A public card party was held Friday evening at Olive Bridge 1, O. O. F. hall under auspices of Olive Rebekah Lodge, No. 470. The affair is reported as meeting a pleasing success.

The Rev. C. F. W. Ahrens and family of Walden called on Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Every at Traver Hollow during the week. They were en route to Phenicia.

Aarsten Van Wagenen of Shokan and Kingston was a social caller at West Shokan Heights Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Longyear of Phenicia, with Miss Marjorie Davis enjoyed an afternoon dinner and fishing party Thursday afternoon at Bridal Veil Falls on the reservoir property.

All week trucks have been hauling shale from the pit on the Dolan property at West Shokan Heights. After covering the finished strip of the Bushkill Hill TERA road, other town road sections about needing re-covering are having attention.

West side friends join in extending congratulations to the east side newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Laurence.

With the primary elections being held next Tuesday comes the reminder that autumn and another every two years town election is close on the way.

Miss Lillian Wargman of New Jersey is spending her annual vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Golden Van Benschoten at Hemlock Knoll, Shokan, north boulevard.

Miss Edna Gessner of Olive Bridge has accepted a private nursing position at Benedictine Hospital, from which she was graduated previous to taking a year's social service course in Columbia University, New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Fortson of Shokan heights recently made a visit to Martin Every's, well known Traver Hollow turkey paradise.

Mrs. Mary Hartmann and companion, Charles Gries, of upper New York city called at the Davis home at West Shokan heights Thursday afternoon. Members of both the Hartmann and Gries families were formerly for many years summer guests stopping with Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Bishop, deceased.

Joseph Bacca and family of New York city, who for a number of years past have spent several months during the summer season in this locality, have been making a brief stay of late near "The Spillway." Last season the Bacca's rented the Winchell farm house at Broadhead heights. He is a World War veteran and saw many months' service overseas with the A. E. F., where he was gassed. Mr. Bacca is also a veteran of the Turk-Italian conflict in 1912, when he was desperately wounded through the chest by the thrust of a Turkish bayonet, as a member of an Italian landing party.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Weidner of Locust Hill Farm motored to Hobart last Sunday and while in Stamford made the ascent to the summit of Mt. Utasayantha, a mecca for sightseers. A roadway has been built to the summit and maintained by the township of Stamford. A charge of 25 cents is made for each car making the climb. Mr. and Mrs. Weidner contemplated a trip this Sunday to Sugar Loaf mountain, in Orange county.

Miss Catherine Roe of West Shokan heights is spending the week-end at the Jordan farm at Broadhead heights.

Jan Eckert is employed with his team doing a landscaping project on the Dolan estate at West Shokan heights.

Arthur E. Trowbridge and William Shultis of Olive Bridge recently attended a session of the Hudson Valley 1, O. O. F. Past Grands Association, held in Cairo, Greene county. They report a large and enthusiastic get away for the newly formed Hudson Valley Association.

Congratulations are extended by a wide circle of friends to Ray Van Demark and Harry North, who were tendered a dual celebration Saturday evening, September 10. About 30 guests were present. Dancing, music and refreshments were in order.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brethaupt of Atwood called on former Watson Hollow neighbors Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Eckert of Watson Hollow were out of town visitors one day this week.

Mrs. Stella Longyear of Phenicia spent Thursday evening with the Davis family at West Shokan heights.

The Watson Hollow Inn is scheduled to close its highly successful 21st season with the passing of the week-end.

Miss Marjorie Davis made a number of social calls about the east and south side reservoir vicinity Friday afternoon.

Farm and Home Bureaus

Modena Unit

Modena, Sept. 16.—The fall rally of the Modena Home Bureau was held Friday afternoon at Mrs. Myron Shultis's home. The meeting was scheduled for 11 o'clock, but on account of the late arrival of some of the members, the pot-luck lunch was served before the meeting was held. Miss Evelyn Nance, who has competently filled the position as county demonstration agent for the past ten years, has been promoted as an organizer of Home Bureau units in communities not having such an organization. Miss Nance will be succeeded by Miss Everice Parsons, who has been acting county agent during the absence of Miss Nance, who was granted six months sabbatical leave by the State College at Ithaca. Miss Parsons was introduced by Mrs. Frank Black. Miss Nance spoke appreciatively of her work with the local unit and the splendid cooperation they had given her in the ten years she had spent as their leader. She suggested the idea that community meetings with local Farm Bureau and 4-H organizations during the winter months, the decision resting with the members. These meetings will be educational and recreational, and as three sections are represented, Mrs. Frank Black named the following chairmen to form their committees and hold their entertainments in each section of community: Miss Emma Palmer, Ardona, N. Y.; Mrs. Jonah Rhodes, Clintondale; Mrs. Orville Seymour, Modena. The proceeds from these entertainments will be used to defray expenses incurred by local leaders, in their trips to Kingston, where they receive instructions in projects which are current in the Bureau. On Thursday, September 19, the Bureau members are invited to attend the second annual community picnic at Tillson Lake, on the invitation extended by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gray of Gardiner. People from Walkill, New Paltz, Gardiner and Modena are included. Each one attending will bring a covered dish. Tea and coffee will be provided by Mrs. Gray. Programs for the year's activities were distributed, being as follows:

Sept. 26—Bringing Your Fall Wardrobe Up-to-Date, Mrs. Tobey at New Paltz Reformed Church, 2 p. m.

Oct. 4—"Let's Have Fewer Colds," Mrs. Frank Black, at Miss Emma Palmer's home in Ardona.

Liberty League Raps Law on Lowly Potato

Washington, Sept. 16 (AP)—The potato control system passed at the recent session of Congress continued to arouse discussion today, with the American Liberty League attacking it as "another step toward Socialism."

The plan aims to control production by assigning quotas to farmers and levying a tax on potatoes produced in excess.

The Liberty League, in a statement, called it another step in a system leading to "methods of restriction of the private lives and business activities of our people wholly foreign to American institutions."

The league said the "punitive tax" was of "questionable validity" and declared the system would boost prices "for a staple commodity on which the poorer classes are absolutely dependent."

It said regulations will annoy "both producers and consumers," and that "bootlegging will be unavoidable despite fines up to $1,000 and jail sentences up to one year."

"Provision is made," the league statement said, "for an army of snipers through severe penalties imposed on persons who fail to tell of violations by their neighbors."

The league, in declaring that the act "attempts to benefit large commercial growers of potatoes but will harass several million small growers and burden the entire consuming population," took a view differing from that of A. E. Mercker, agricultural economist whom the AAA has placed in charge of potato control.

Mercker recently said he believed the plan could be worked out to benefit potato growers in commercial sections without undue restraint on small growers.

Battles For Assembly Posts are In Prospect

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 16 (AP)—Bitter battles for nomination to the state assembly in an exceptionally large number of districts were in prospect today as New Yorkers prepared for a primary election tomorrow that will clear the way for what Democrat and Republican leaders say will be a test of the New Deal in November.

Both major parties in President Roosevelt's home state concede the November battle of ballots will "feel out" the administration's strength, a year before the gubernatorial and presidential elections.

The only elections of state-wide importance this year involve the assembly, now controlled by the Democrats for the first time in 23 years, and two state senate seats made vacant by death.

The Republicans, since they launched their campaign in late May, have attacked both state and national administrations in their drive to regain control of the assembly. The Democrats have been content to wage their battle solely on the record of the 1935 legislature.

Most of the assembly primary contests tomorrow are in New York city, where organization Democrats are opposed in 46 districts by independents. There are only seven Democratic upstate contests.

The Republicans have 12 upstate contests and seven in New York city. New representatives are assured in 20 districts, 19 incumbents having withdrawn this year, and another, Louis A. Cuvillier, having died since the last session.

The upstate Democratic contests are in Erie, Oneida, Otsego, Orange and Westchester counties, while the Republicans have contests in Oneida, Orange, Rensselaer, Steuben, Cortland, Fulton—Hamilton, Herkimer, Lewis and Tompkins counties.

LENDING MONEY ON ALL WORTHY TOWNS

Old Twentieth Reunion Tuesday

The annual reunion of the old Twentieth Regiment, N. Y. S. MILITIA, or the 80th New York Volunteer Association, will be held in Epworth Hall, Clinton Avenue M. E. Church, on Tuesday at 12 o'clock. Following the meeting a dinner will be given by Ladies' Auxiliary, No. 52 S. of U. V.

So far as is known there are but three survivors of the regiment, out of nearly 2,000 enlistments.

Among the guests Tuesday, which is the anniversary of the Battle of Antietam, will be Assemblyman J. Edward Conway, Mayor F. J. Heide, and many relatives of deceased veterans and veterans of other regiments.

The earliest specimen of tapestry work which can be accurately dated was found in 1902 in the tomb of Thutmose IV (1420-1411 B. C.) at Thebes.

New Paltz Normal School Activities

Nan Cunningham, Adelaide Waldron, Betty Thomas and Kay Ross of the Agonian sorority are on extension this quarter.

Lillian Twomey spent a part of the vacation at a camp on Long Island, acting as instructor.

Miss Hurlish is back at the Pi Sigma Lambda Sorority house again this year.

An instrumental course is open to students this year with Howard H. Hoffman as instructor.

The inter-sorority dance was held in the gymnasium Wednesday evening.

Those on the Nepano staff for the year are as follows: Editorial board, Florence Brown and Celia Rosenberg; managing editor, Mary Cross; news editor, Ruth Eiskner; assistant news editor, Jack Granitz; reporters, Polly Brundage, Marjorie Bates, Wilfred Denham, Rita Bedell, Gertrude Cironberg and Edith Mihalick; feature editor, Helen Levy; columnist, Lea Brown; men's sports editor, Henry Farnham; assistant men's sports editor, William Charanoff; women's sports, Marjorie Crocker; copy editor, Adelaide Ench; music editor, Elaine Kniffen; advertising staff, Helen Morrissey, Leah Pollack and Lena Kotner; circulation manager, Philip Shiffrin.

Friday night the junior class presented the freshmen frolic in the Normal gymnasium. The theme of the decorations was green in keeping with freshmen week. All the freshmen were identified by green paper with names pinned on them. The music was furnished by a four piece orchestra. There was entertainment by students during the dance intermissions. The dance was very informal, the girls wearing sport dresses.

The seniors will sponsor the trip to Mohonk on Saturday for the freshmen class.

Two hundred and fifty students have enrolled in the freshmen class. This is the third class that has been admitted to the Normal after having satisfactorily passed the selective admission tests. Three hundred fifty took these tests.

The first meeting of the Paltronian Board for 1935 will be held Wednesday, September 18, at which time the staff will meet with the representatives of various publishing houses to decide on the company which is to contract for the book.

On Tuesday, September 10, the Ko Sion Ya, the organization of independent girls, took the freshmen in groups and made them acquainted with the campus and town of New Paltz and showed them some of the following places in the village: The old colonial homes, the library, the museum, glass works, the boarding houses and the business places.

Wednesday night, September 11, the Delphics sponsored the first men's smoker of the season. This event was attended by the male members of the student body and faculty. Games were played, two skits given, both of which were written by a student—Bill Helzmad—wrestling and boxing matches were held, also a tumbling demonstration given. Soda, sandwiches, crullers and cigars and cigarettes were served during the evening.

Friday the discussion group picnic was held at the Glen in form and song at 2:30 o'clock.

Betty Thomas, Nan Cunningham, Mary Ryan, Doris Wallace and Kay Kruger, all of the Agonian sorority, attended the wedding of Ruth Sly last Saturday.

Ruth MacLaren toured Canada and Niagara Falls during her summer vacation.

Mrs. Hurston is the new hostess at the Clonarian sorority house.

The initial practice of the 1935-36 grid season was held on the campus Monday, September 9, with a squad of twenty-one men reporting. Intensive drilling is to get under way as soon as possible in preparation for the first game of the season which will be played against Highland High School on September 28. Those on the squad who reported are: Veltrams Von Valkenberg, Aelio Schmidt, Brannen, Thompson, Schmidt, Cohen, Haas, Palmer, Stubb, Rodde, Carlin, Kingsley, Heelan, Perkins, Mance and Capitain Tompkins. On The Radio Day By Day

Time is Eastern Savings.

New York, Sept. 16 (P)—An indication that the CBS network is to center some of its concentration upon ambitious daytime shows again this year is apparent from the announcement that Lola Long, fashion writer, has been signed to conduct a special hour's production each week for women.

She calls it "The Woman's Page of the Air," to unfold the first time September 24. There will be guest stars, authors, and other personalities of the day, together with Mark Warnow's orchestra. Last year a similar hour was conducted by Cobina Wright.

In addition the School of the Air will be back for another series of five broadcasts a week and plans are being made to develop various hour-long features for the daylight.

The dramatic serial to star Helen Hayes on WJZ-NBC, written by Edith Maclure, author of the Sherlock Holmes scripts, is to deal with the trials and tribulations of a modern young matron in a small town. It is titled, "The New Penny."

Graham McNamee has taken over another of Jimmy Wallington's NBC jobs in the Rudy Vallee hour.

Detective Killed Wife, Wounded Daughter

New York, Sept. 16 (P)—Detective Daniel Sullivan, veteran of 18 years on the New York police force, was held without bail today on a charge of homicide for slaying his wife and seriously wounding his 14-year old daughter.

Deputy Chief Inspector John J. Ryan said that Sullivan admitted shooting his wife, Helen, 39, and wounding Evelyn, one of their five children when she attempted to aid her mother at their Brooklyn home yesterday.

Police said that the other children told them that the quarrel started when their mother came home in the early morning hours after a night at Coney Island.

In the course of the argument, according to police, they heard Mrs. Sullivan tell her husband that she had started separation proceedings.

"My mind was a blank," Ryan quoted Sullivan as saying. "I don't know what happened."

The children told police that the next thing they heard after their mother told Sullivan that "I am getting a separation and can do as I please" was her smothered cry:

"You're choking me."

Then they said that they heard Sullivan shout "I'll show you if I am yellow." A shot rang out.

As the woman fled from the room other shots were fired, the children said, and Evelyn was hit as she got in the line of fire going to aid her mother.

Sullivan was held in Brooklyn city prison for examination in homicide court on Wednesday.

Friends!

Like to be the sort of a friend that you've all been to me, like to be the help that you've been always glad to be, like to mean as much to you each minute of the day, as you have meant, good friends of mine, to me all along the way, and that's why I am wishing now that I could but repay a portion of the gladness that you've strewn along my way, and could I have but just one wish this only would it be, like to be the sort of a friend, that you've all been to me.

Strong Man—I developed these muscles working in a boiler factory. Innocent Flapper—Oh, you great, big, wonderful man! What do you think?

"Lack of time," in many cases, can be written, "Lack of desire"—and the meaning won't be changed at all.

Little Norman (as he saw his mother sterilizing the dishes that came from the sick room)—What are you doing that for, Mother dear?

Mother—Because, dear, your Daddy dear has germs and the germs get on the dishes. I boil the dishes and that kills the germs.

Little Norman (turning the matter over in his mind for a minute)—Mother dear, why don't you boil Daddy dear?

The human race has flaws, and the best place to begin picking them is at home.

Kind Old Gent—What are you crying for, Sonny Boy?

Little Boy—I forgot what it was.

Kind Old Gent—Then why do you cry?

Little Boy—Because I can't remember.

Three weeks after Jessie reached boarding school she began signing her letters "Jessie." Brother Tom didn't like it. He replied:

"Dear Jessie: Dad and Mom have gone to visit Aunt Lizzie. Uncle Samica is buying a new machine, but he doesn't know whether to get a Chevy or a Fordica. The old Cowie had a calico, and I was going to call it Nellie, but changed it to Jimmie because it was a bull-dog. Your loving brother Tomica."

Teacher—Tell me something about the Diet of Worms.

Youngster—I don't take cooking lessons.

A "Man of Vision" is usually one who sees things the same way you do.

Friend—I hear Jasper has a position with the railroad. What sort of a job is it?

Man—He is in the puzzle department.

Friend—What do you mean?

Man—He makes out the time-tables.

Man is further retarded in his progress by his architectural design, which particularly fits him for sitting down.

Inquiring Friend—I see you advertised your saxophone for sale.

Man—Yes, I saw my neighbor in the hardware store yesterday buying a gun.

Maybe science can take the place of religion, but you never see it making people behave.

Mother—David, what did you buy those bright red earrings for?

David—I bought them to give Aunt Minnie for her birthday.

Mother—Don't you think they're loud for Aunt Minnie?

David—Oh, no. She's deaf, you know.

We would rather trust a statesman who gets famous by writing tent medicine testimonials than one who wins success by promising lower taxes and give the poor more public money.

Tommy had always been very afraid of dogs. One day, after a struggle to get him to pass a large dog which stood on the corner, his mother scolded him for his necessary fear.

"Well," was the reply, "you'd be afraid of dogs if you was as low as I am."

HEM AND AMY

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—As persistent as the call from producers for "new faces" on the screen is the musical casting director's cry for new faces—belonging to real musicians—in his recording orchestra.

But whereas new faces for camera purposes may come to Hollywood and perhaps even get a chance to adorn a screen, unemployed musicians though they be real ones could flock in droves to Hollywood and stand no chance of getting in. Musicians' union rules require that no musician be employed in a studio without at least one year's residence here, and then only after a favorable vote of the union.

No Real Shortage

There is no real shortage of musicians in Los Angeles, says Frank Tresselt, Twentieth Century-Fox's musical casting director, but there is a shortage of "studio-wise" musicians, artists who are trained in the technique of playing for the recording microphones. Complete mastery of the respective instruments is but the first requirement for "studio-wisdom" in music. A master of his instrument has to become accustomed to playing under varying conditions, different conductors, with a musical range from the classics to jazz.

Tresselt estimates that in all of Hollywood there are perhaps fewer than 100 "studio-wise" musicians, which complicates his problem when other studios happen to be recording or scoring a picture at the same time he wants them.

As an orchestral nucleus each studio keeps a certain number of musicians under contract, each drawing $5200 a year, with any extra playing time presented them as a bonus at the end of the year. The rate for musicians is $10 an hour.

It's Costly

Masters of instruments like the oboe, bassoon, and French horn are scarce, and a good one draws more than the standard rate. To spread work, the union limits the number of engagements any man may have in one week.

Music in pictures is costly in other ways. When an orchestra is seen in a picture, it must be composed of real musicians, even though it only goes through the motions of playing. Such a "sideline" or "atmosphere" orchestra draws $12.50 per man per day of eight hours.

And if the studio imports an orchestra from elsewhere—not a "name" band such as Paul Whiteman's or Rudy Vallee's—it must pay a "stand-by" band of equal size composed of local musicians.

At The Theatres

Today

Broadway: "China Seas." Once in a while the powers guiding the destiny of motion pictures get the smart idea it would be wise to give the public an adventure yarn, filled with melodrama and excitement, not overlooking the sex angle, however, for that seems to be essential to any show's box office success. So here we have a motion picture in the best tradition of the theatre, a fast paced, vibrant and colorful melodrama, with a giant cast of high malaried players plus the unquestioned allure of the tough but sentimental Jean Harlow. This show moves with electrifying gusto against the intrigue and danger of the far east, and it centers mostly around a rough and adventurous sea captain, a girl and a mystery man, all aboard a ship and all looking for trouble. Yet the main idea seems to stress the belief that a common sort of girl who has been through everything can win her man against all the culture of a girl who has position and money. For real thrills, brilliant photography and swell direction, this picture is one of the "hit" dramas of the year, the type of thing that will appeal to everyone. Clark Gable, Wallace Beery, Jean Harlow, Lewis Stone, Rosalind Russell, Dudley Digges, Ivan Lebedeff and C. Aubrey Smith are a few of the big names to be seen in this one.

Orpheum: "The Scarlet Pimpernel." Leslie Howard and Merle Oberon form a delightful romantic duo in this costume picture, one of the really fine talks of the year. It tells of an elusive Englishman who is helping the people trapped in the death and destruction of the French Revolution. The dialogue is smart and satirical, the action is tense and gripping and the screen work of Mr. Howard is a joy to watch. The show has an ending that fairly screams with suspense.

Kingston: "Bonnie Scotland" and "The Clairvoyant." Laurel and Hardy branch off into a full length comedy in the opening attraction at the Kingston and do a neat job in a story that centers around that land of the lakes. The show, naturally, was a build up for the Laurel-Hardy talents and each scene simply serves as a background for their antics. If you like the comedy of the Irish and finger twirling Hardy and if you enjoy the dead pan expression of Laurel, this show will throw you into innumerable laughs. Hollywood's funniest comedy duo are at their best in this film. "The Clairvoyant" is absorbing mystery stuff, the story of a fake fortune teller, who discovers much to his happiness that he has real clairvoyant powers. Claude Rains gives an excellent portrayal in the starring role and the support of Fay Wray and Jane Baxter is valuable. "Amateur Night" is an added feature of the Saturday evening bill.

Tomorrow: Broadway: Same. Orpheum: Same. Kingston: "Smart Girl" and "It Happened in New York." Ida Lupino, Gail Patrick, Kent Taylor and Joe Cavallaro lead the parade of players to be seen in the opening attraction at the Kingston. It's one of those one sided romance affairs wherein two girls are seeking the same man, but all works out fine in the end. "It Happened in New York" is a reasonable and attractive humor. The plot concerns a press agent for a motion picture star and his efforts to get his charge well into the limelight of popular acclaim.

To Love Her Was Dynamite! To Spurn Her Was...? Turbulent drama of fierce loves, intense hates, dangerous intrigues in the colorful setting of the China Seas where "anything goes!"

Kingston: "Bonnie Scotland" and "The Clairvoyant." Laurel and Hardy branch off into a full length comedy in the opening attraction at the Kingston and do a neat job in a story that centers around that land of the lakes. The show, naturally, was a build up for the Laurel-Hardy talents and each scene simply serves as a background for their antics. If you like the comedy of the Irish and finger twirling Hardy and if you enjoy the dead pan expression of Laurel, this show will throw you into innumerable laughs. Hollywood's funniest comedy duo are at their best in this film. "The Clairvoyant" is absorbing mystery stuff, the story of a fake fortune teller, who discovers much to his happiness that he has real clairvoyant powers. Claude Rains gives an excellent portrayal in the starring role and the support of Fay Wray and Jane Baxter is valuable. "Amateur Night" is an added feature of the Saturday evening bill.

Tomorrow: Broadway: Same. Orpheum: Same. Kingston: "Smart Girl" and "It Happened in New York." Ida Lupino, Gail Patrick, Kent Taylor and Joe Cavallaro lead the parade of players to be seen in the opening attraction at the Kingston. It's one of those one sided romance affairs wherein two girls are seeking the same man, but all works out fine in the end. "It Happened in New York" is a reasonable and attractive humor. The plot concerns a press agent for a motion picture star and his efforts to get his charge well into the limelight of popular acclaim.

Brooklyn Audience Awaits the Pay-off

New York, Sept. 16 (AP)—A Brooklyn audience waited 30 minutes for the third act of Aida last night, but finally came in on the backstage drama which caused the delay.

The singers wanted their pay—and got it.

As the curtain fell on the second act, Anna Leskaya stepped from the title to a practical role and demanded payment of her salary from Alfredo Salmaggi, impresario of the Chicago Opera Company.

Others of the 165 members of the cast joined in her demand.

Salmaggi insisted there was delay in counting the box office receipts and reminded the actors that 2,500 persons who paid to see them were waiting, and that besides that, they should think of their art.

Two Egyptians stepped forward in flowing robes and reminded Salmaggi that they were delegates of the Grand Opera Artists Association and Grand Opera Choral Alliance, affiliates of the American Federation of Labor, and that it was his custom to pay off between the acts.

The impresario stepped before the curtain and charged, "The Artists' Union ruined this beautiful show. It is the roughest thing in the world."

He started the pay line with the priests so they could get to the stage to open the third act.

"Bravos!" at the end of the opera softened his resentment, but not for long—a delegate of the Stage Hands' Union informed him the delay meant the stage hands would have to be paid for overtime.

Ignacio's Senorita Waits Another Day

Mexico City, Sept. 16 (AP)—Senorita Maria Elena Rivero, who has been waiting four months while Juan Ignacio Pombo attempted to complete his flight from Spain to see her, decided to wait another day while the 22-year-old Spanish aviator tackled the last leg of his flight.

Pombo, who took off from Santander May 12, and flew over the South Atlantic successfully to Brazil, only to meet varied misfortunes, finally reached Mexico last Friday, landing at Telleria, Vera Cruz.

But he became lost yesterday on his supposedly last stage and landed at San Marcos, Guerrero.

Word came from the little town of San Marcos that Pombo had landed there, 125 miles south of his course.

In a message to the Spanish Embassy, Pombo said he had become lost in the clouds and had had trouble with his motor and compass.

From San Marcos he said he would go to Acapulco, not far away, and then proceed to Mexico City.

After he crossed the South Atlantic, landing in Rio Janeiro, Pombo cracked up his plane in Belém, Para, Brazil, where he was delayed one month waiting for a new ship.

In Costa Rica he was stricken with appendicitis and had to undergo an operation which held him another month.

Incinerator Cost $26,312 to Build As Relief Project

The Actual Cost To City Was $26,312. H. S. Shults, Executive Director of ERB, Submits Construction Costs to Board of Public Works.

The city incinerating plant now in operation on Wilbur avenue was constructed as a work relief project at a total cost of $26,312.21, according to figures submitted to the Board of Public Works by H. S. Shults, executive director of the local ERB.

The actual cost to the city was $26,312.21. It is interesting to note that the incinerator was erected well within the appropriations. The estimated cost was $27,723.47. For this cost the building was to be equipped with a 50-foot chimney.

When the building was nearly completed, however, it was found that it would be constructed well within the original estimate and for that reason it was decided to construct an additional 50 feet to the chimney so that the building could later be used for the incineration of garbage.

The actual cost of construction including the additional 50 feet in the height of the chimney was $26,312.21. Of that amount $12,398.39 was expended for labor and $13,913.82 for materials, equipment, etc., including 3 furnaces.

Five People Injured When Car Hits Pole

reached the scene he found one man sitting on the bank alongside the road and another was lying on his side with his face down. The two were James and Charles Scully.

The other brother, William, was standing near the wrecked car, and said that the driver, had gone to telephone for an ambulance.

Taken to Hospital.

The ambulance conveyed Charles and James Scully to the hospital while the police car conveyed William Scully and his sister, Mary, to the hospital, and later, after their wounds were treated, they went over to police headquarters and signed a statement as to how the accident happened.

Van Kleec also called at police headquarters to report the accident and fill out the report sheet, required to be filled out in all accidents where an occupant of a car is injured.

According to William Scully's statement he had gone outside the saloon and saw Van Kleec and hired him to convey himself and his brothers and sister to Hurley.

The Buick sedan driven by Van Kleec is owned by Clermont and Clinton Yerry of Phoenicia. The car was badly damaged.

Tuesday Is Primary Day in Kingston

Tuesday is Primary Day in Kingston and the polls will open at 12 o'clock noon and remain open until 9 o'clock that evening. It is expected that the candidates selected at the unofficial Republican and Democratic conventions will be endorsed by the voters tomorrow. The only contests are those expected to develop for the election of ward committeemen in some of the wards.

Donald C. Morris of 284 Washington avenue returned to Albany today for his junior year in the Albany College of Pharmacy.

Frank Williams and Dennis Williams of New Paltz spent Thursday at Fahrenstock State Park and visiting friends in Cold Springs.

Mrs. Arthur J. Carroll, who has been a patient at the Benedictine Hospital for the past two months, was removed yesterday to her home, 116 O'Neil street, where she is now convalescing.

Treasury Receipts.

Washington, Sept. 16 (AP)—The position of the treasury on September 13 was: Receipts, $23,958,531.98; expenditures, $4,658,645.75; balance, $19,299,886.23. Customs receipts for the month, $12,627,782.54. Expenditures, $1,473,297.57 (including $738,087.57 of emergency expenditures); excess of expenditures, $763,250.33. Gross debt, $28,967,048,421.78. A decrease of $2,233,435.25 under the previous day. Gold assets, $9,220,355,350.35.

Tea For the Barbers.

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 16 (AP)—President Roosevelt arranged a tea late today with Norman Davis, ambassador at large to Europe, and Mrs. Davis, indicating an interest in the involved European situation.

There is no sign whatever that this country will step into this problem. On the contrary, the President expressed to be showing to the old warring countries of Europe his policy of "good neighbor."

Going abroad with a busy day of domestic business Mr. Roosevelt had on his calling list a number of men closely connected with national affairs.

Proved—Won't Stop.

Unterach, Austria, Sept. 16 (AP)—Mme. Maria Jeritza, the Austrian operatic star, said today she was provoked by the "unkind" nation-wide protest over her second marriage, and that therefore she would not sing for the home folk.

The announcement that she intended to take the leading role in a benefit performance of the Vienna State Opera aroused the wrath of the semi-official and Roman Catholic press, which charged that her recent marriage to Winfried R. Sheehan, American film executive, was irregular in Austria.

Clinics For The Diseases Of Lungs

The health officers and physicians are actively assisting in the promotion of the early diagnosis of tuberculosis. As a part of this health measure, and at the request of the local health officers, Dr. F. W. Laidlaw, District State Health Officer, has made arrangements with the State Department of Health to hold five consultation clinics for diseases of the lungs at the following places:

Monday, September 23—Saugerties, Fire House.

Tuesday, September 24—Saugerties, Fire House.

Wednesday, September 25—Highland, Ganz Memorial Building.

Thursday, September 26—Kingston, Knights of Columbus Hall.

Friday, September 27—Kingston, Knights of Columbus Hall.

The clinic hours will be from 1 to 4 p. m.

Two physicians of the State Department of Health will examine the patients and X-ray pictures will be taken. Anyone desiring an examination will be admitted upon presentation of a card signed by the family physician, or if there be no family physician, by the health officer.

In an effort to assist the family physicians, these clinics have been held throughout the state at intervals for the past fourteen years and large numbers of people have been referred by their doctors for consultation and X-ray. Aside from known cases of tuberculosis, patients who have been referred for examination have been of two types: (1) persons presenting such symptoms as bronchitis, asthma, coughs, persistent colds, loss of weight, undue fatigue and symptoms of like character; and (2) persons, especially children, who have been in contact with cases of tuberculosis.

There is no doubt that the early diagnosis and prompt treatment of cases, and the close supervision and periodic re-examination of exposed children, will do much to further decrease the death rate from tuberculosis.

Pays With Life.

Makhach-Kala, Russia, Sept. 16 (AP)—A careless thief who did not bother to plug up oil line his gang had tapped paid for his negligence today with his life.

Police executed Manchenko Kostilov, who had drilled holes in a pipeline here. They sentenced 14 members of his gang to prison. Large quantities of oil flowed out over the steps after the robbers had pierced the pipes, enabling authorities to discover the crime quickly.

10 Deaths Counted.

Monroe, La., Sept. 16 (AP)—The toll of dead in the derailment and burning of an eastbound Illinois Central freight train early Saturday in West Monroe, mounted to ten with the death last night of Pete Griggs, 25, of Calhoun, La., at a sanitarium here.

It was necessary to amputate Griggs' right leg at the scene of the accident after rescue workers had tried in vain to lift a massive iron beam off his crushed leg, as flames licked at the car under which he was pinned. His death was attributed to shock and loss of blood.

Balloons Sighted.

Warsaw, Poland, Sept. 16 (AP)—Several of the 13 balloons drifting east by northeast in the twenty-third Gordon Bennett international balloon race were reported sighted in eastern Poland today, but were not identified. Two balloons, one white and one dark, were sighted near Dzialowa, 250 miles east of Warsaw near the Russian border.

Two others drifted across the station at Gettysburg, at the same distance from Warsaw.

Sentenced to Gallows.

London, Sept. 16 (AP)—Raymond Bousquet, Winnipeg boxer whose ring name is Del Fontaine, today was sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Hilda Meeks, 21, a friend, Fontaine, a light-heavyweight, had a brief trial at Old Bailey on charges of murdering the girl and attempting to murder her mother, who was seriously wounded in a shooting affray at the Meeks home in South London on July 10.

Accidental Death Verdict.

Sterling Forest, N. Y., Sept. 16 (AP)—Coroner Edward Garrison of Orange county today gave a verdict of accidental death in the case of Wallace Longcore, 16, of Belleville, N. J., who died Saturday night of a revolver shot in the right temple.

Two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Brecheit, at whose home Longcore was a guest, told authorities the young man was demonstrating the revolver to them when it fired accidentally.

Madajewski Under Arrest.

John Madajewski, 67, of East Union street, arrested this morning on a charge of public intoxication, was lodged in the county jail to await arraignment on Tuesday in police court, as the police said he was too drunk to be arraigned today.

Grafia Gets 6 Months.

New York, Sept. 16 (AP)—Noel C. Scifia, convicted of perjury before a federal jury in connection with the return of jewels stolen in Miami last winter from Mrs. Harry Contant, was sentenced today by Federal Judge Carroll C. Hincks to serve six months in prison.

Sadko Turns Homeward.

Moscow, Sept. 16 (AP)—The ice-breaker, Sadko, turned homeward today after the long polar night closed in, making further exploration impracticable. The ship reported it had reached the farthest point north ever attained by free navigation.

Wanted to Death.

Order, Utah, Sept. 16 (AP)—Peter Canas was wanted to death, Mrs. Clayton Collins, 24, was critically injured and several other persons received injuries in a fire today at the National Hotel.

Lehman's Report

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 16 (AP)—Governor Herbert H. Lehman said today that a messenger was on his way to Secretary of State Cordell Hull carrying a report on the Brodsky-Nazi flag incident. Mr. Lehman revealed that he had dispatched to Secretary Hull last night the report that the government asked of Chief City Magistrate Jacob Gould Schurman, Jr., of New York City, regarding the incident. The report dealt with the discharge by Magistrate Louis B. Brodsky of five men arrested in connection with the tearing of the Nazi flag from the German liner Bremen, and the magistrate's reference to the banner as a "pirate flag." Mr. Lehman transmitted the Schurman report without comment. On Saturday Secretary Hull expressed to the German ambassador official regret over the Brodsky incident.

Body of Man Found

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP)—The body of a man who had been shot five times was found today in a stolen sedan in a squatters' settlement of Brooklyn. The motor of the car was still running. Fre shells lay on the sedan floor. The man, dark complexioned, wore a gray suit, gray felt hat and a wrist watch inscribed, "A. A. U. June 14, 1935." Theft of the car was reported Saturday, police said, and the license plates were stolen from another owner. Police sought a possible link with the slaying of Abraham Meer, 21, whose body was found last night in a quiet residential street of Brooklyn.

Little Girl Injured.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 16 (AP)—President Roosevelt and Governor Lehman will discuss New York state relief problems at Hyde Park tomorrow afternoon. The governor discussed his plans today to visit the President, and said the relief question would be taken up.

Local Death Record

The funeral of James A. Jafer was held from his late residence, 299 Hasbrouck avenue, this morning at 9 o'clock and at 9:30 from St. Mary's Church, where a high Mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rev. Father Roth. The children's choir gave the responses to the Mass and at its conclusion sang the Miserere. Interment was in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery Father Roth giving the committal service. The Order of Moose met at the home Sunday night and conducted their ritual and later Father Roth chanted the Rosary in the presence of members of the family and friends. Pall bearers at the funeral were George W. Moore, Nicholas Savatze, Earl Shufeldt, James Fabiano, Richard Ehret, Ludlow Post. There were many beautiful floral tributes and spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards.

Mrs. Helen Addie Arms died Saturday, September 14, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. O. Allen, 67 Clinton avenue, this city. Deceased was born February 16, 1850, and for the past fourteen years had made her home with her daughter in Kingston. Although spending only the latter years of her life in Kingston she made a large circle of friends to whom she was an inspiration for her courage and cheerfulness during many years of failing health. She was a member of the First Reformed Church, also Wiltwyck Chapter, D. A. R. Mrs. Arms is survived by one daughter, Mrs. E. O. Allen, of this city; one son, Clarence Arms, of Worcester, Mass., and three grandchildren, Isabel Arms of Worcester, Mass., Margaret and Robert Arms Dingham of Herkimer, N. Y. Services were held at 2:30 o'clock today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. O. Allen. Interment at Sidney, N. Y., on Tuesday.

Funeral services for Mrs. Frieda Thurn, who died at her home, 119 Foxhall avenue, last Friday afternoon, were held from there this morning and from St. Peter's Church, where a high Mass of requiem was sung for the repose of her soul by the Rev. H. E. Herdegan. The responses were sung by Prof. J. B. Schwalbach and P. X. Fitzgerald, with Mr. Fitzgerald as soloist, who sang the "Pie Jesu" at the offertory and Haggett's O Salutaris at the end of the Mass. Many friends of the deceased, and friends of the family were in attendance at the Mass and too part in the burial service, following which the interment took place in the family plot in St. Peter's cemetery, the Rev. Father Herdegan pronouncing the final absolution of the body was laid at rest. A mark of admiration and respect was manifested for the deceased Mrs. Thurn in the amount of beautiful flowers, which completely surrounded her casket as it reposed in the family home, also a number of spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards, all of which were sent by her devoted family, friends and neighbors.

Lynette Gottlieb Rafalowsky, concert pianist and teacher, wife of Herman Rafalowsky of this city, died last evening, at the Kingston Hospital. Her death followed the birth of a son on September 11. Mrs. Rafalowsky was the daughter of the late Prof. N. D. Gottlieb, former bandmaster and Alexander II, in Russia, and a symphony orchestra conductor in England. At an early age she manifested remarkable talent for the piano, and appeared in concert recitals both in New York city and many cities of the United States. She was an alumna of the Institute of Musical Art of New York city under Dr. Frank Damrosch. She also attended the Fontainebleau School of Music in France. For several years she taught piano at the Juilliard School of Music in New York and for a period of years gave a series of concerts with the "Gottlieb Ensemble" of New York. Besides the husband and a son and stepchildren, her mother, four sisters and one brother, survive. Mrs. Rose Saxe, Mrs. Sadie Springer of

The Reichstag Relegates Jews to Position Held During the Middle Ages

Third Reich of the Future Will Separate Sharply Aryans from "Belongers to the State," by Unanimous Decision.

GOERING EMPOWERED

Fearing of Swastika from Liner Bremen Seen Direct Cause of New Legislation.

Nurnberg, Germany, Sept. 16 (AP)—The Reichstag of Adolf Hitler today relegated Jews to their position during the Middle Ages.

They may not become citizens, intermarry with Aryans, have intimate relations with gentiles nor even employ Aryan servant girls under 45 years of age.

The Third Reich of the future, by unanimous decision of the 600 Hitler followers who make up the Reichstag, will be one in which Aryan citizens who "by their attitude indicate they are willing and fit to serve faithfully the people and the Reich" will be separated sharply from "belongers to the state."

Legislation embodying these points was passed last night amid scenes of unexampled patriotic fervor and approval for the course: Hitler has chosen to pursue strictly along the lines laid down in the original Nazi program.

These acts inspired Der Fuehrer's followers with the hope that the rest of the Nazi tenets would be translated into practical policy, step by step, just as fast as political expediency permitted.

Before hearing addresses by Hitler and General Wilhelm Goering, the Reichstag itself gave a practical expression of its belief in the authority of Nazi principles.

It empowered Goering, as leader of the Reichstag, to summon it into session at will until a new set of by-laws, embodying "leadership" principles, has been evolved and adopted.

The tearing of the Swastika from the prow of the German liner Bremen in New York last month and the action of Magistrate Louis Brodsky in dismissing five defendants in the case were considered by observers to have furnished, in a measure, direct cause for enactment of the laws.

One law, effective immediately, proclaimed the Swastika as the Reich's national and commercial flag. Black, white and red were set as the Reich's colors, with Der Fuehrer to designate the form of the Reich war flag and the Reich official flag.

Controversy Over Constitution Changes

Constitutional amendment now definitely out of order," arguing that "the people haven't been licked yet."

He said new industrial legislation like the Guffey coal bill and the Wagner labor disputes bill should be tried before a constitutional amendment is considered.

"Those who cry that the administration program is unconstitutional are spending all of their time on the fact that the Supreme Court has declared a law unconstitutional," he continued.

"Throughout the history of the country, 60 or 65 laws have been declared unconstitutional and the people themselves have passed three amendments to the constitution to overcome the effects of Supreme Court decisions."

"You don't destroy the constitution by legislative process; it grows under that process."

National GOP Women Meet in New York To Talk Over Matters

New York, Sept. 16 (AP)—The feminine wing of the National Republican party met here today to talk over its constitutional rights and the state of the nation's pocketbook.

The question which will overshadow all others in 1936, said Mrs. Henry R. Caraway, president of the Women's National Republican Club, is whether or not we shall emasculate or surrender constitutional government in our country.

"The temptation of government subsidies held out to numerous groups . . . is a different proposition to attack," she continued. "It is hard to convince people that the United States treasury is the pocketbook of the whole people."

"As is the case with their own private purse, if the money is squandered and bills accumulate, somebody, sometime must pay or we are a nation of bankrupts and a bankrupt nation."

Other speakers, building toward a session tomorrow in commemoration of the adoption of the federal constitution, struck at New Deal legislation and policies.

Mrs. Jacob Baur, president of Chicago's Republican women, predicted victory next year for a liberalized Republican party which "comes out for progressive and liberal principles upholding popular government—a government actually run by duly elected representatives and not a bureaucracy."

One of the campaign issues for Republicans to consider, she declared, is a program in opposition to the Democratic policy of "interference in business."

"The Republican party should map out a plan of business administration that will convince the voters that they will aid business and not hamper it," Mrs. Baur asserted.

"Aid, not dissuade business" should be a good campaign slogan as better business means more jobs and more jobs mean happiness and more abundant life for our people."

Mrs. John Crawford of Westport, Conn., reviewed the "pay-as-you-go" policy in her state and cited recent refusals by several cities to accept federal aid.

"There is a growing feeling based partly on recent experiences that communities would do better to wait for their improvements until they are in a position to make them without the aid of federal grants or loans," she said.

The sessions are to continue through tomorrow with Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the National Republican committee, Col. Theodore Roosevelt, president of the National Republican committee, and United States Senator Frederick Steiwer of Oregon scheduled as speakers.

Diphtheria Clinics To Be Held in City

Dr. L. E. Sanford, city health officer, has arranged to hold a series of diphtheria prevention clinics in the city, in addition to the regular Monday afternoon clinics. The first will be held on September 26 in the Polish Parochial School on Delaware avenue from 3 to 4 o'clock that afternoon. The second will be held on October 3, in St. Joseph's School at the same hour, and the third on October 10 in the Union House on East Union street.

Dr. Sanford stated today that parents who reside in the vicinity of these clinics should bring their children to the clinic so that they could be immunized from diphtheria. He will also vaccinate children who have not been vaccinated.

Under the new method that is now being used only one injection of serum is necessary to immunize a child from diphtheria. In former years when the clinics were first held it was necessary to give three injections at intervals of a week apart, later the number was dropped to two injections, and now with the use of the new serum only one injection is necessary.

ULSTER COUNTY POMONA GRANGE TO MEET FRIDAY

The regular meeting of Ulster County Pomona Grange will be held at the Lloyd church hall on Friday, September 20, starting at 2:30 p. m. An evening session will be held in Highland Grange Hall, beginning at 8:30.

The following is a summary of the whole sale prices paid for the various grades of eggs, in case lots, on the Mid-Hudson Egg Auction at Poughkeepsie on Friday, September 13:

White eggs: Large, fancy, 42c-45c; Grade A, 38c-42c; Mediums, fancy, 36c-38c; Grade A, 34c-37c; Pullets, Grade A, 27c-31c; Powers, Grade A, 22c-25c.

Brown eggs: Large, Grade 9, 38c-40c; Mediums, Grade A, 34c to 35c.

A total of 123 cases were sold at the above prices.

With a Brick
Sunday noon, the police radio sent out a call to one of the cars to respond for aid at the Strand and Haverbrook avenue. When Officers Bowers and Mahoney pulled up at the spot William Wilson, a negro, informed Officer Bowers that while he was on Gill street another negro, Lester Ferguson, had hit him in the head with a brick. The negro had then disappeared in the general direction of East Kingston where he lived.

A FEW HINTS About Safeguarding Your Home Against Fire

This is National Fire Prevention Week and everyone is interested in learning sure ways and means of never having to call in the fire department.

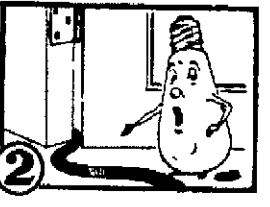

It's a bit embarrassing to realize that most fires are caused through sheer carelessness. So every so often cigarette smokers make a resolution to be sure their cigarettes are out. They swear never to put even a dead cigarette in a waste basket. Mothers teach their children again that matches are not to be played with. Oily rags are not thrown into corner closets and so on down the list of the obvious acts that cause fires.

But there is another cause of household fires that is a bit more baffling to the average householder and that is—defective wiring. When they hear of a fire caused through an electric cord or through fire in the walls they immediately jump to the conclusion that electricity must be a dangerous fire hazard. Nothing is further from the truth—electricity can be the safest thing possible if it is correctly used. The trouble is that people do not know enough about electricity to judge for themselves when and how it is safe. They rely on the word of the manufacturer of appliances or their dealer or the contractor who installs it. That is just what they should be able to do and what the industry is trying to make sure they can do.

Take cords—for instance. Practically everything electrical that you use in your home has a cord.

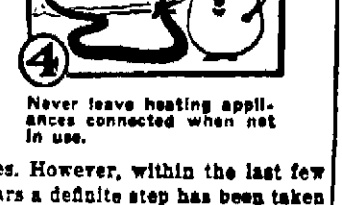

Cords should be examined regularly.

If you take the advice of the little man illustrated in these pictures your approved cord will last much longer and it cannot be listed as a fire hazard.

Another cause of fire in connection with electricity can be from overloading a circuit which is not protected by a fuse of the right strength.

RESOLUTIONS
At a meeting of Court Santa Maria, No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America, the following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS It has pleased Almighty God to send into our midst the Angel of Death, summoning one for whom we cherished a deep and lasting affection, our late lamented sister MARY S. O'REILLY MURPHY Of her it may be truly said that none knew her but to love her, none named her but to praise.

Summoned at a time, when her heart's highest hopes and fondest desires seemed most certain of realization, her death has cast a shadow over the Court, that cannot be dispelled; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, that Court Santa Maria, No. 164, of the Catholic Daughters of America, in the death of Sister Mary Susan O'Reilly Murphy, has suffered the loss of a beloved and zealous organizer of this Court, a member whose companionship it was a pleasure and an honor to enjoy; that we treasure the memory of her noble traits of character, her gentle nature, her high ideals, her deep and constant devotion to her church, her family and her friends, her unswerving expenditure of both time and energy in all charitable and civic movements, for the betterment of mankind, that her memory will ever serve as an inspiration to us to emulate her example for the greater glory of our Order, our Court and ourselves with the hope of eternal reward that we fervently believe will be hers to enjoy in the Beatific Vision; and, be it further

RESOLVED, that we offer to her bereaved family over whom sorrow has hung her sable mantle, our heartfelt condolence and pray that our Divine Lord may bring relief to their burdened hearts and imbue them with the consolations that hope inspires and that Faith in God gives even in the shadow of the tomb.

New Liquor Control Will Take up Task

Washington, Sept. 16 (AP)—The Second chapter in the post-repeal history of federal liquor control is expected to open soon, perhaps this week.

When President Roosevelt appoints his new federal alcohol administrator, the old control agency which took up the task of keeping order after repeal, will officially die.

For some time this agency, known as the Federal Alcohol Control Administration, has been without power over the beer, wine and liquor trade it formerly ruled. It worked through codes, which were swept away in the decision that smashed N.R.A.

The new F.A.A. (Federal Alcohol Administration) will have power to fine offenders, as well as revoke or suspend licenses, whereas the old agency had no power to assess fines. Instead of working through code authorities, the new F.A.A. will enforce its rules by direct action against violators.

Runaway Auto Ran Into Store Front

About 12:30 o'clock this noon Morris Goldman parked his auto in front of the Weber drug store while he transacted some business nearby.

During Mr. Goldman's absence the brakes became released in some unknown manner and the car started to run away down the Broadway hill crossing over to the other side of the street, up on the sidewalk and into one of the plateglass fronts of the office of Dr. Samuel Stern. Rather remarkable was the fact that the large sign under the window was not broken, and there was not a mark on the car to show where it had struck the building. Some of Dr. Stern's friends remarked that the glass used in the window was the same that Dr. Stern used in the manufacture of his eyeglasses—the unbreakable kind.

Car Taken by Holdup Men Recovered Here

Saturday afternoon Officer Brophy found a Chevrolet coach bearing the license plates number of Z-4852 NY, apparently abandoned near 93 Lucas avenue. Later the police received word from Town Clerk Geoghagan of Haverstraw that the car was the property of his brother who had been held up and beaten by holdup men on one of the roads in New Jersey leading to the George Washington Bridge. The town clerk said his brother was in a hospital in Englewood for treatment for his injuries, and that some one would be sent after the car.

New Landing Field In Historic Country

Fort Plain, N. Y., Sept. 16—Dedication exercises and an air meet will mark the official opening of the Fort Plain U. S. Intermediate landing field on Saturday afternoon, September 28. Indications are that about 75 planes will be on the field that day. The dedication exercises will begin at 2 o'clock.

The field is located about three miles northwest of Fort Plain and lies on an unusual plateau, over a mile in length, on a high hill. It is 15 air miles from Albany. It has the longest landing strip on any airport between Buffalo and Newark.

Opposite the northeast end of the long landing strip and on the other side of the Mohawk river, is the site of the battle of Klock's Field of October 19, 1780, when American troops and militia defeated the band of Tory and Indian invaders under Sir John Johnson and Joseph Brant.

On this location, stands old stone Fort Klock, which, during the Revolution, was the center of a stockade. The General Cochran house, built about 1785, stands on Route 5, eastward. It was built and occupied by General Cochran, a physician and surgeon, who was in charge of all Revolutionary hospitals of the U. S. Army of the North, and who was a close friend of Washington. Palatine Church, an ancient stone structure built in 1770 and the most famous landmark on Route 5, stands opposite the southeastern end of the long landing strip. To-n-to-ge, greatest capital of the Mohawks in 1634, stood on the present heavily wooded Oak Hill, only 1/4 mile from the southwest end of the long strip.

Fort Plain was a famous fort of the Revolution. It was a large stockade with five blockhouses and an exterior blockhouse.

Superchargers Take First Game From Huron Indians, 3-1

The first of a three-game series between the Graham superchargers of Napanoch and the Huron Indians of Rosendale, was played at Nordland Field, Napanoch, Sunday afternoon and was won by the Napanoch team 3 to 1.

As had been anticipated, it was a great game and a rince at the score shows how evenly matched the two teams are. Both pitchers, Quick for Napanoch and Hornbeck for the Indians, twirled great ball, each striking out eight men. Hornbeck allowed but six hits to Quick's eight, but also allowed the only walk, when he put four balls on Widlitz in the fourth. The Hurons were charged with one error, the only one charged during the game.

The Superchargers got their first run in the second, when Wynkoop came through with a double, Widlitz struck out, Cullum got on by a fielder's choice, Snyder to C. Neff at second to get Wynkoop off the bag for the second down. Ferrara came through with a single to deep left, driving in Cullum. Their other hits were, one in the sixth, one in the seventh and two in the eighth, when they put over their other two runs. Michael and Quick singled, O'Neill tried to sacrifice but went out at first and Belman came through with a sacrifice to bring in Michael, while Quick stole home on a late throw to Messing. Sickler made the third out, an easy grounder to Hornbeck, the Indian pitcher.

The Hurons got their only tally in the eighth, when with two down Hornbeck singled and scored when Kelder came through with a drive to deep center. The ball landed in the heavy brush and it looked like a sure homer, but O'Neill, the Napanoch center-fielder, made a quick recovery to nail Kelder at home on a relay.

The game was witnessed by a large crowd, which will probably be increased when the second game of the series is played at Napanoch next Sunday.

Morgenweck Looks For Big Season in Basketball Here

Frank Morgenweck was in Kingston last week drumming up trade for the American League basketball season at the Municipal Auditorium and Saturday afternoon told reporters he had procured orders for a goodly number of reserved seats.

"I've been in several sections of Ulster county," "Pop" said, "to discuss basketball and from the attitude wherever I went, it looks good for the coming season. I am especially pleased with the way Kingston people are talking about the Legionnaires and the American League."

Morgenweck is after the championship of the big pro circuit and plans on putting a team in the field of competition that will make them all hustle.

"I've already signed Charlie Husta, Frank Shimek and Ward Meyers, and these boys are the nucleus of a real good club," Morgenweck said. Husta and Shimek starred for Kingston last year. Meyers played with them on the Fort Wayne club and should fit in well on the Legion five.

Over the week-end Morgenweck went to Schenectady for a talk with Corky Stanton, who broke into pro ball with the Legionnaires last season. Indications are that he'll be back with the Morgenweckers.

Three others, who wore the spangles of the Legion last season and have received contracts, are Hank Kurtyka, Jim Lennon and Bill Hamilton. "I feel sure they'll give us Kingston again," Morgenweck said, "and I think with this lineup we'll give 'em all a go for the pennant."

Morgenweck felt very light-hearted when he talked with men of the press, saying he'd done much better than he really expected in the line of selling reserved seats. "I needed no persuasive methods of 'salesmanship,'" he told them. "The fans readily ordered their seats and seemed anxious for the season to start. Of course, it was impossible for me to get in touch with all of our old patrons but they need not be alarmed, as seats may be reserved for the season by communicating with Les Barth at the American Legion."

Dodge Pitches Fine Game as Forsts Defeat Newark, 11-2

Sunday afternoon at the Kingston Fair Grounds Forst's Formost defeated the strong Newark Pros, 11 to 2.

Big Jack Dodge, local pitcher, besides holding the Newark team to nine well scattered hits, got three hits to help his own cause. Except for the fifth inning, when Forst got to Celento for 8 hits and an error to score 8 runs, the game would have been much different, for Albino, their star pitcher who relieved him, allowed but three hits in the last four innings.

Debrosky collected five out of five for Kingston. Jimmy Merritt hit a home run in the fifth inning with the bases loaded.

Says Baer Will Have to Improve

Speculator, N. Y., Sept. 16 (AP).—

Jack Dempsey, always a roofer for Max Baer, is of the opinion that the former butcher boy is in shape to absorb plenty of punishment but that he would have to improve on his showing of yesterday if he would defeat Joe Louis.

Max, apparently in one of his periods of lassitude, boxed six rounds yesterday as Dempsey and others looked on. In contrast to his savage punching of the day before, however, Baer had little steam in his punches and seemed content to box with Paul Piers, Willie McGee, George Turner and Lou Scroza. Several thousand fans went away disappointed.

Talk in his workout Baer was disturbed in the collapse of a stand holding approximately 400 persons in which several persons were hurt.

Bob Martin Makes Run of 20 at Skeet Shoot on Saturday

Twenty-two shooters were at the skeet field of the Ulster County Gun Club last Thursday and 11 on Saturday.

The "Little Skeet League" match is half over but no one of the four teams has entirely completed the first half.

Several new members have joined the club during the past week.

On Thursday Roy Longendyke made a long run of 18 but this was eclipsed on Saturday when Bob Martin ran 20 without a miss.

One of the prizes in the September team race is for the longest run and Martin's 20 is high so far. Martin has a good chance to win the five dollars offered by the Ulster Co. Gun Club for the first perfect score of 25 made on the skeet field. He went straight up to next to the last pair of doubles when he missed both of them.

Dizzy Dean Voted Star of the Month

New York, Sept. 16 (AP).—Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, the Cardinals' leading twirler who admits he's good and then proves it, was the outstanding luminary among the major league stars of the fifth month of the 1935 season.

Dizzy earned the designation of "star of the month" by one vote over Buster Lou Gehrig, the Yankee iron man, on the basis of the daily Associated Press listing of "yesterday's stars." Dizzy turned in seven performances in the month which ended today that earned him the right to be listed as a star. Gehrig was named six times while Jimmy Fox of the Athletics came in third with five starring performances.

Two of the Detroit Tigers, Hank

Greenberg and Schoolboy Rowe, were picked four times along with Hal Trosky of the Indians and Paul Andrews of the Browns.

With the end of the season only two weeks away Gehrig and Greenberg seem to have earned the palm for consistency in this line. Gehrig led during the third month while Greenberg, though never on top of the list, figured among the leaders during three different months. Mel Ott of the Giants, who "starred" only once last month, also was among the high ones three times.

Ott was "tops" for the first month, Wes Ferrell of the Red Sox, Tommy Bridges of Detroit, Bill Dickey of the Yankees and Hal Schumacher of the Giants shared first place in the second while Joe Medwick of the Cards topped the list in the fourth month.

The Blue Coat hospital of Liverpool was established in 1708 for orphans and fatherless children born within the borough.

The STANDINGS

The celebrated hop from the frying pan into the fire couldn't be much worse than the one the Giants have to take from St. Louis to Chicago.

Triumphant in a great struggle which began with St. Louis in the lead and New York 3 1/2 games behind, the New Yorkers now face exactly the same sort of series against the Cubs. While the Giants were routing the Cards on their own field for the second time in a row, Chicago continued its brilliant winning streak to 12 straight victories by sweeping a four-game series with Brooklyn and now heads the parade by two games over St. Louis and 3 1/2 games over New York.

Bill Terry's wrecking crew apparently proved that its pennant aspirations still were sound when, after losing the first game to the Cards and Dizzy Dean, they came back to win three in a row, including two extra inning encounters. It was the second time they had conquered the Cards at a critical stage. In July they were dropped momentarily from the lead by losing two games to St. Louis only to regain it with four straight victories.

They showed their strength again yesterday when, after two extra inning victories, they routed Dizzy Dean, who won the first game handily, and hammered out a 7 to 3 triumph with a 16-hit attack that rocked three pitchers. Three singles in the first inning put them a run ahead and they added pairs of tallies in the third, when Hank Leiber hit a homer with Terry aboard, and in the fifth, Carl Hubbell pitched two-hit ball up to the sixth, when Joe Medwick hit for the circuit, then eased up and gave two runs in the eighth after New York had scored its last two.

An Attendance Record
The Cards had scant consolation in the fact that the attendance of 41,284 set a St. Louis record for a single regular-season game.

Four Brooklyn errors, plus Bill Lee's six-hit flinging made it easy for the Cubs to increase their lead with a 6 to 3 victory over the Dodgers.

Gus Suhr, Pittsburgh first baseman, equalled the National League endurance record of 618 games, established by Eddie Brown of Boston, when he played one inning in a 5 to 3 victory over the Phillies. He still trailed the American League "iron man" Lou Gehrig of the Yankees, who took part in game 1,640 of his continuous stretch and helped beat the league-leading Tigers 8 to 7.

The Yankee triumph only served to reduce Detroit's lead to 3 1/2 games two weeks before the close of the season. Johnny Murphy played the big role, pitched expertly after Vito Tamulis had been belted out, driving in the tying run in the seventh and scoring the winning counter.

Cleveland broke its third-place deadlock with the Red Sox by pounding out two victories over Washington with a total of 35 hits. The scores were 16 to 4 and 6 to 3. Boston won only one game, trimming the Browns 5 to 5 with a six-run sixth inning rally after St. Louis had nicked Lefty Grove for five tallies in the first.

The White Sox and Athletics split a bargain bill, Chicago winning the opener 9 to 2 and Philadelphia the ten-inning afterpiece 7 to 5 on Pinky Higgins' home run. Cincinnati turned back the Braves twice, 10 to 9 in the opening pitching duel in which Paul Derringer and Ben Cantwell gave four hits each and 7 to 6 in a ninth-inning run in the second clash.

Nurnberg, Germany—Sixteen thousand Germans armed with complete modern equipment began maneuvers this morning on the Zeppelin meadows. General Werner Von Blomberg was in command as motorized sections of new armored cars and anti-aircraft guns wheeled about simulating a sham village.

The entire program was re-enacted in the afternoon for the benefit of Hitler's birthday, who then witnessed it.

Belgrade, Yugoslavia—Dispatches from Titara Albania state today that 47 persons now have received death sentences in connection with last month's uprising at Ploer. The total was brought to 17 by the fifth trial for alleged rebels at which three more death penalties were passed.

Peshawar, India. Thirty thousand Indian and British troops, who have been clearing the territory north of here of rebellious tribesmen, began their final major movement toward Nawakki Pass today.

The governor of the northwest frontier province Sir Ralph Griffiths, warned the tribes the area would be mopped up whether there was any resistance or not.

Manila, P. I.—Gov. Gen. Frank Murphy held the "full strength" of the government as a threat over bitter partisans today to assure that the Philippines first presidential election tomorrow will be a "clean" one.
Murphy wrote two of the candidates,
Emilio Aguinaldo and Bishop Gregorio Aglipay, that he would do his utmost to prevent irregularities.

London—The biggest British army maneuvers since the Great War open in Hampshire tomorrow under the personal direction of Sir Archibald
J. Montgomery-Massingberd, chief of the general staff. Fifty thousand men, 300 tanks, several cavalry brigades and squadrons of planes from every military district will be represented.

and member of Parliament, was married today to Duncan Sandys, member of parliament, at Sainte Ethel-burgh's Church. The bride obtained a divorce February 11 from John M.
Bailey.

Saint Mibel, France—General
John J. Pershing yesterday pledged America's fidelity to her World War ideals when he helped to plant the "Pershing oak" here commemorating
America's deliverance of this sector
17 years ago. Addressing officials and war veterans who gathered to honor him on the occasion of his 75th birthday Pershing characterized America's war aid to France as
"services for right, liberty and justice."

Amsterdam, Netherlands—The Bank of the Netherlands today increased its discount rate from 5 per

GREATNESS STANDS ALONE

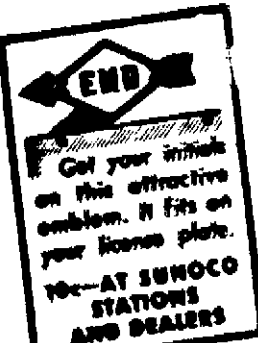

THE NORMANDIE
The Normandie is the Greatest Ship Afloat
Length..... 1,029 FEET
Beam..... 119 FEET
GROSS REGISTER..... 79,288 TONS
TOTAL PASSENGERS & CREW..... 3,324

There is only one Normandie

...there is only one Blue Sunoco and it, too, stands alone because it is made in only one grade...and that grade gives unfailing top performance

By concentrating on only one motor fuel, economies are effected in refineries, warehouses, delivery trucks and gas pumps. That is why we are able to give you High-Test, Knock-less Power and Long Mileage...at REGULAR GAS PRICE.
